When meticulous European craftsmanship meets the finest materials, a world-class performance instrument is born. Our flagship Estonia Concert Grand Piano model L274 (9'0) is the painstaking end result of over 236 years of piano making in the North-European country of Estonia. Whether leading an orchestra, or taking an accompaniment role, the model L274 (9'0) will deliver an exciting and musically inspiring voice. With exceptional control for tonal expression producing rich musical colors, the Estonia Concert Grand will touch the hearts of audiences, pianists, musicians and music lovers.

The top performance piano action, hammers, dampers, iron plate, strings, double duplex-scale, and other European components of the highest-level quality, have been custom fit for each individual instrument.

We carefully select soundboards which are made of only the highest quality resonant spruce, found in the high altitudes of the Swiss and Italian Alps. Our soundboards are meticulously treated by our experienced craftsmen to produce a naturally beautiful and singing piano sound. Precision, handcraftsmanship and a painstaking attention to details, the Estonia Piano Company continues the trusted, European, old-world piano making traditions.

ESTONIA®

For over a century, the Estonia Piano Company has been in pursuit of the most singing grand piano sound. Indrek Laul, a Juilliard doctorate and owner of the factory, has traveled the world for three decades working with concert pianists, performers and educators. Dr. Laul and his team of specialists has understood the demands of pianists, their needs to achieve the complete inspiration and tonal expression, and has guided that knowledge to the Estonia piano making. With the great teamwork, the most advanced Concert Grand Piano Estonia model L274 (9'0) has been proudly and painstakingly created for pianists and musicians in Performance Centers and Concert Halls, Conservatories and Recording Studios, as well as for the homes of music lovers.
